

The Source

Created by Magpies Magazine, The Source is a subject guide to children's literature: books, short stories, traditional literature, and poetry from around the world with an emphasis on Australian and New Zealand literature. The Source consists of four continuously updated and revised databases:

- Books & Authors: A database of over 17,000 picture books, children's, young adult novels and collections which are searchable by subject, author or illustrator, title, type, genre, series, and sequels. Subject searches can be narrowed down by age, genre, and type. Brief biographies of authors and illustrators are included.
- Poetry: A database of over 15,400 poems from around the world which appear in the 380 anthologies indexed. Of these the full texts of over 3,000 poems in the public domain are available on The Source. The poetry database is searchable by subject, poet, title, genre, and first line.
- Short Stories: An index to over 2,800 short stories including fairy tales, folktales, myths, and legends linked to the collections in which they appear. All short stories are annotated, and the full text of some is included. The short story index is searchable by author, title, subject, genre, and age.
- Awards: A database of the winners and short-listed books for 44 Australian, New Zealand and international children's literature awards. This database is searchable by author, title, award, and year of award.

Using The Source

The Source can only be accessed within Liverpool City Library branches and will open immediately once you open it from our website. Just select one of the four databases, which will all look slightly different but function in the same way.
